News from the Desk of the Executive Head

Well there are signs of Spring wherever you look. I love going out with the dogs each morning and seeing the daffodils start to burst and green buds on the trees and bushes and of course the sounds of the birds chirping away lifts your spirits.

We have been teaching the children how to wash their hands properly throughout the week and ensuring that they stay well. Please remind them to use a tissue if they sneeze or cough and put it in the bin. We want everyone to be well and healthy. As you know the government this week have written an emergency plan for Coronavirus. Schools receive daily updates from The Department for Education and The Public Health Office and the key advice is WASH YOUR HANDS. If you genuinely feel unwell self-isolate and seek advice from NHS 111. Should schools be required to close this will be communicated to you. Please don't worry. I am writing a plan to continue educating our children should this ever happen.

It was lovely to see so many of you this week at parent consultations. This is one of the ways we communicate to you how your child is progressing. You can of course speak to a class teacher at anytime if you want to know how your child is getting on. Thank you for completing our parent survey. I am now collating the responses and will let you know the results soon. Initial look shows everyone feels their child is generally happy in school.

Yesterday was World Book Day and we have made this newsletter a world book day special. The children all had a fabulous time in the dance workshops and I have seen some amazing book in a shoebox. Year 5 have spent time in their Design and Technology lessons creating moving parts to represent the story. There are some very creative ideas. The more we read the more we learn. So if you do nothing else but read to your child each day then you will be widening their world. There are so many amazing books that have been written it seems a shame to leave them on the shelf.

"What really knocks me out is a book that, when you're all done reading it, you wish the author that wrote it was a terrific friend of yours and you could call him up on the phone whenever you felt like it." J D Salinger.

Have a lovely weekend .

Mrs Humphriss

FIGHT GERMS BY WASHING YOUR HANDS!

WORLD BOOK DAY QUIZ

On Wednesday four children from Year 5, Maya, Mia, Reuben and Lilah, went to Stratford School for the Annual World Book Day Quiz.

The children have been reading the book 'The Boy at the Back of the Class' by Onjali Q Rauf. The book tells the story of Ahmet, a nine year old refugee from Syria, and explores the challenges he faces arriving in a strange new country.

The children faced several challenging rounds against very stiff competition from eight local schools. They were exceptional in the spelling rounds as well as answering 30 questions about the focus book and other general knowledge book based questions.

There was great excitement as the scores were counted and verified and our team finally found out that they had come joint first place with Thomas Jolyffe School. CONGRATULATIONS!

WORLD BOOKDAY

A GOOD BOOK IS LIKE A GOOD FRIEND

SCHOOL UNIFORM

Our school uniform policy states that coats should be black or navy. There are too many children in luminous pink or yellow or bright colours. Please respect our policy and ensure that children have the correct uniform.

We have also noticed children are wearing trainers instead of flat black shoes. Again please respect this and ensure your children are in the correct uniform.

PARKING

Please remember that we are situated in a resident street of Stratford Upon Avon. When you park please make sure you are parking properly. DO NOT park in front of people's garages or car-ports. Also do not sit with your engine running. We work hard to keep a good relationship with our neighbours. Please help us keep that by observing the rules of the highway code and parking.
